Visual Language Learning [VLL]

Learning a new language through visuals is an engaging and highly effective process. To provide a focused and immersive environment, we offer three dedicated programs: Indonesian, English, and Japanese.

Each language is taught as a standalone course tailored for beginners. These programs are suitable for a wide range of learners, including children aged seven and older, teenagers, and adults.

The curriculum utilizes the Visual Language Acquisition method, which connects curated imagery directly to meaning. By bypassing the mental requirement for translation, participants build vocabulary and assemble complete sentences with greater ease. This approach allows learners to develop natural intuition and achieve faster recall by establishing a direct cognitive link between the image and the specific language they are studying.

Price

Rp155,000 per participant

*Minimum of 2 people per class

Duration

One hour of fun and playful visual language learning

Schedule

Offered every Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoon, or arranged upon request

Program Highlights

Translation-free learning: Images link directly to meaning, building instinctive understanding.

Beginner friendly: The curriculum is tailored for true beginners with no prior experience required.

All ages welcome: The program is designed for children aged seven and older, teenagers, and adults.

Progressive structure: Learners move seamlessly from single words to phrases and full sentences.

Engaging environment: Visual cues keep lessons interactive while reducing memorization fatigue.

Learning Outcomes
